vv. 1-4 1. Heavens shout God's match-less glo - ry; Skies tell what His hands can do.
 vv. 4-6 2. Ev - 'ry dawn the sun e - merg - es From his tent with - in the skies, vv. 7-8 3. O, Je - ho - vah's law is per - fect— Turns the heart, the soul re - vives.
 vv. 9-11 4. O, how clean the fear of God is; It en - dures for - ev - er, strong!
 vv. 12-14 5. Who can un - der - stand his er - rors? Lord, for - give my hid - den sins!
 *see below 6. God re - vealed Him - self in na - ture Then with - in His breathed-out Word,

* Hebrews 1:1-3; John 1:1-18

Day to day is sound - ing clear - ly; Night to night speaks, too.
 Like a joy - ful bride - groom leav - ing Home to wed his bride—
 And how sure His tes - ti - mon - y— Makes the sim - ple wise.
 And, how true are all His judg - ments— Right - eous ev - 'ry one!
 Please re - strain me from trans - gres - sion; Con - quer sin with - in!
 But in re - cent times has spo - ken Through His Son, our Lord.

Ev - 'ry per - son hears the mess - age; Ev - 'ry lan - guage un - der - stands,
 Like an ath - lete fit and read - y, Fresh with strength his course to run,
 Right and just are all His pre - cepts; They re - joice and sat - is - fy.
 Sweet - er to my taste than hon - ey, Far more pre - cious than pure gold:
 May my words and thoughts be ev - er Pure and pleas - ing in Your sight.
 Rad - iance of Your Fa - ther's glo - ry, You re - veal His un - seen face—

For the sound of na - ture's voice has Reached the farth - est lands.
 From hor - i - zon to hor - i - zon, Hid - ing heat from none.
 And how pure are His com - mand - ments; They en - light - en eyes.
 When I read, they al - ways warn me; When I heed, re - ward.
 O, my Rock and my Re - deem - er, Help me win this fight.
 Christ, the Word of God In - ear - nate, Full of truth and grace.
